

Please send me a copy of Is There Life After 504? A Guide to Building and Program Accessibility...

...it sounds like a most useful document.

...You at BCM do such wonderful things to really help the profession and your latest effort sounds like another winner--BRAVO!

...sounds like a very informative and helpful booklet.

...We are in the middle of a 2.5 million dollar renovation and your guide would be a tremendous help in our planning.

...I'm sure we would find it very useful in developing our programs and in our expansion plans.

...Our museum's programs for the handicapped are somewhat limited at present. We are architecturally accessible but have been unable to draw a large audience from the handicapped sector of the community. We are working with a 504 advisory committee and are developing programs for the handicapped. Your book...would be very helpful to us.

...I am very much interested in this subject and would like a copy of this publication IF YOU HAVE ANY LIFE.

...I am working on a program to make the cultural arts more programatically and architecturally accessible to the handicapped and elderly. We need all the advice and helpful suggestions we can get to accomplish this worthwhile and challenging goal.

...the information would be very valuable to me in my museum classes.

Thank you so much for sending us Is There Life After 504?
...it is a most valuable publication.

I'm very impressed--and pleased that there is finally a publication with basic information for museums grappling with the problems of accessibility! Congratulations!

A colleague gave me a copy of your Is There Life After 504?
Great book! Would you send two more for my staff?

I spend a most enjoyable and enlightening hour the other day reading Is There Life After 504? You, your staff and advisory group did a fabulous job on the publication. I have been in this general field (accessibility) for over seven years and probably have seen or read several hundred-plus publications of a "how to do it" nature. Yours is simply excellent. It is not too technical, but is not so general as to lack meaning; it is not preachy and best of all, it is readable...Your publication has applicability beyond museums; the principles discussed here are useful in a wide variety of situations. Well done!

I think your booklet is very amusing, and from what I've had time to read, very good. Can you spare an additional copy?

Thank you for sending me a copy of Is There Life After 504?--hot off the presses. It is a wonderful publication and you all should be highly commended.

Thanks for being one of the consistent leaders in this area!

I just wanted to write you a fan letter for the wonderful job you and your staff did on Is There Life After 504? As the 504 coordinator for our museum, I have over the past two years read reams of brochures and materials on 504. But none have been as well-conceived and beautifully presented as your museum's. I learned a lot, and am now furiously Xeroxing chapters for our security chief, designer/preparator, and other staff members. We all have much to learn! Thanks again to you and to the many people who contributed to the project. We here on the other side of the continent are inspired!

Please allow me to congratulate you and your staff on the booklet Is There Life After 504? ...It is the only 504 publication I have found which treats the subject with thorough knowledge, sensitivity, practicality and humor. To put it mildly, the booklet is a very welcome addition and much needed. Thanks for making it possible.
