Dental Health Day

Sunday, February 28 from noon to 5 pm.
Smile! Dental experts from Boston University's Goldman School of Graduate Dentistry and the Children's Museum want to see those smiles, so they are bringing you a "Tired Toothbrush Trade-in" special on Dental Health Day.

Give your toothbrush a tune-up. Bring in your tired, worn-out bristles and we'll give you a brand new one. Lots of activities, special guests, and fun are planned to help visitors of all ages learn and "check up" on the importance of dental hygiene.

While you're here, have a smile painted on your face, learn how dentists fill cavities and let kids from the Cambridge Community Art Center teach you about flossing using "Big Mouth," an 11 foot teaching model made of foam.

More events over!

(Voice and TTY-TDD)

Special Boston storyteller Brother Blue will tell children smile stories about good dental habits, and Ronald McDonald Jr will talk about the rewards of clean teeth and perform a magic show at 12 and 1:30 pm. You might also want to polish off the day with a free apple!

Dental Health Day is an annual event hosted in collaboration with Boston University's Goldman School of Graduate Dentistry, Massachusetts Society of Dentistry for Children, and Massachusetts Dental Society.

Admission to the Museum is $2.75 for children, ages 3-15, and senior citizens; $3.75 for adults; children under three are free. There's no additional charge above Museum admission for special events.

The Children's Museum is at Museum Wharf, 300 Congress Street, on Boston's waterfront. For travel information, call the What's Up Line at 426-8855.
