• • • ONE MILLION LEGO® BRICKS ARRIVE!!!

"Excitement is 'building'" is the theme of the new exhibit LEGO, opening on Wednesday, November 16 at the Boston Children's Museum. Over 1 million LEGO bricks and elements and specially designed play areas will be open to visitors of all ages to make whatever their imaginative creative minds desire. DUPLO bricks, the larger building bricks, will be available for young visitors in the Playspace exhibit.

The second exhibit will show what designs and models are possible with LEGO bricks and elements. Everything from Christopher Columbus' Ship Santa Maria to the Space Shuttle Columbia will be displayed, all are a part of a travelling exhibit depicting the development of transportation. The models will be on exhibit through March 1983.

So come and build your own LEGO ship or boat, or castle moat!

● ● ● CUT AND CONNECT ON CONSTRUCTION DAY

Small Science is the November 6' Construction Day theme, and visitors are invited to participate in Drinking Straw, Milk Carton, and Dowel Construction from 10 am - 5 pm. During the day a Museum staff member will be on hand to demonstrate the how-tos on a special area of Small Science. Whether it's a drinking straw bridge or a milk carton doll house, it's fun to use your imagination on Construction Day!

The Children's Museum is at Museum Wharf, 300 Congress Street, on Boston's waterfront.
