Halloween Happening & Workshops

Celebrate Halloween this year with your children. Come to one of Recycle's Costume Making Workshops and an all-day Halloween Happening at the Boston Children's Museum.

Recycle's Costume Making Workshops open to families, teachers and monsters of all ages, will offer all the materials and instruction you'll need to make your Halloween truly "horrible." Come to one of our Pre-Halloween Workshops or drop-in Halloween Day Workshops. Limited to 20 per session. Children under 10 must be accompanied by an adult. The workshop fee is $5 per costume. Pre-registration is required at least one week in advance of the workshop date. To register, call the museum at 426-6500, extension 206. Choose one: Fri, Oct 9, 7-9pm; Sat, Oct 17, 1-3pm; Fri, Oct 23, 7-9pm; Sat, Oct 24, 1-3pm; or Sat, Oct 31, Halloween Day, 10-12 & 1-3pm (drop in sessions.)

Recycle's Halloween Happening, Sat, October 31, offers a caldron full of special activities including Monster Makeup, Preposterous Pumpkin Design, Ghost Stories and two drop-in Costume Making Workshops. Highlighting the day is the Grande Procession at High Noon. A vast assemblage of baleful banshees will attempt to summon back the Great

Recycle Dragon Dorcus (last seen on a jet to Bermuda.) If successful, Dorcus will lead the procession to the Giant's Milk Bottle where the Dragon's Recycled Treasure will be dispersed and an attempt will be made to levitate the Bottle and pop the top.

Also:

Come if you dare! The Gerwick Puppets' production of "Inside the Haunted House" is back every Sunday in October at 12:30, 2:00, and 3:30 pm. This story is scary and intended for children 5 years and older. Tickets are 75¢.

The Children's Museum is at Museum Wharf, 300 Congress Street, on Boston's waterfront. For travel directions, call the What's Up Line at 426-8855.
