Free Visits for Community Groups

Many recreation programs are being reduced or eliminated because of Proposition 2-1/2 and other funding cutbacks. But the Children's Museum is still able to offer free admission to non-profit community groups from Massachusetts thanks to a continued appropriation from the state legislature.

The Children's Museum offers a varied recreational and educational experience for children of all ages, and adults, too! Some fun things you can do here are: Climb inside a giant coffee cup or down a manhole; investigate the properties of bubbles; work on an assembly line; play games with our computers; visit a Native American wigwam; and explore a turn-of-the-century Victorian house.

Adults in your group will want to visit our Resource Center and get information about the services and materials we offer for adults who work with children -- courses, workshops, discovery kits; library materials, and Recycle; a collection of industrial materials that are ideal for arts and crafts projects.

A variety of community groups serving many different ages, take advantage of this free visit program. Types of groups who visit us include:

Community centers
multi-service centers
after school programs
health centers
mental health centers
church groups
camp groups
recreation centers
daycare centers
family daycare groups
schools
special needs schools
special needs institutions residential homes for children group homes for adolescents halfway houses

detention centers
homes for battered women
Y.M.C.A. groups

So, if you've never visited us before, come see what we're all about! It won't cost you anything - as long as your group is non-profit and from Massachusetts. If you have already visited with your group - you are welcome and encouraged to make repeat visits.
